ANNUAL SAVOY REUNION HELD JUNE 18, 1967

Mrs. Alpha Jenkins

The annual reunion of ex-students and descendants of Prof. R. R. Halsell's Savoy Male and Female College was held Sunday, June 18, 1967, in the new Savoy school auditorium with 31 in attendance. Only one ex-student was able to be present, Mrs. Alpha Deatherage Jenkins of Savoy. In spite of the fact that most of the ex-students living are near 90 years of age and unable to attend, the descendants voted to continue meeting each third Sunday in June to perpetuate the memory of Prof. Halsell and his school. The faculty and pupils of the present Savoy school made us feel very welcome for the rooms had been decorated with posters and pictures and signs of "Welcome Halsell Exes and Friends" and "Glad To See You Again." One exhibit of interest to all was an old copy of The Plutonium, the school paper ad stating that the Halsell College was established in 1876 and chartered in 1879. Professor Halsell was president and professor of mathematics and rhetoric; Lewis Holland, vice-president was professor of Latin, Greek, Mental and Moral Science; L. W. Pierce, A. B., professor of Natural Science, and L. J. Reynolds was professor of Business "Penmanship. The first reunion was held in 1938, forty-eight years after the school had burned in 1890.

Sunday's reunion was opened by the president, Kenneth Woodward of Duncan, Okla., and a prayer by Glenmore Hodge of Bonham. Each one present introduced himself and among the group there were 13 children of ex-students and 3 grandchildren.

Mrs. G. R. Newby, secretary, read letters from some who could not be present, and gave a treasurers' report.

Mrs. Glenmore Hodge led in singing several hymns with Mrs. Kenneth Woodward at the piano.

Mr. Woodward read a poem, "When Uncle Ezra Prayed," composed and printed by an ex-student, Lew Reynolds of Dallas.

Mrs. Hodge sang "Teach Me To Pray," accompanied by Mrs. Woodward.

Ken Woodward played "Yesterday" on the guitar.

A quartet composed of Mrs. Bob Grant, Mrs. Joe Fielding, Ernest and Earle Ayres, sang, "Have Thine Own Way, Lord."

The noon meal was served by Mrs. Frances Cates in the lunch room, compliments of the Ex-Students Association.

In the afternoon session the school superintendent, Mr. Robert Hodges, spoke briefly and in behalf of the school thanked Mrs. Barbara Woodward Lips, granddaughter of Prof. Halsell, for the new Steinway piano she had given Savoy school in honor of her mother, Mrs. Annie Halsell Woodward of Durant, Okla., who was unable to attend.

"How Great Thou Art" was sung by Mrs. Glenmore Hodge followed by an address by Mrs. Lips, a beautiful tribute to the memory of her grandfather, Prof. Halsell.

The same officers were re-elected for another year: Kenneth Woodward, president; Glenmore Hodge, vice-president and Mrs. G. R. Newby, secretary-treasurer.

The day closed with singing "Til We Meet" and a prayer by Mr. Woodward.

Those registering were Mrs. Eula Layman of Sherman; Mrs. Alpha Jenkins of Savoy and her daughter, Mamie Joe Jenkins of Dallas; Elizabeth Large, Mrs. S. E. Rino, Gene Blakey, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Strickland, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hodges, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hensley, all of Savoy; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Woodward and son Ken of Duncan, Okla.; Mrs. Barbara Lips, M. H. Woodward, Mrs. Laura Harp and daughter Evamae Harp Lancaster all of San Antonio; Ernest S. Ayres of Oklahoma City, Ok., and Earl E. Ayres of Madill, Ok.; Mrs. Vera Hickman of White-wright; Mrs. Joe Fielding, Mr. and Mrs. Glenmore Hodge, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Newby, Mrs. Maye McWhirter, Hamp Harper, J. W. Moulton, and Mrs. Bob Grant all of Bonham.

Former Savoy College Students' Names Are Listed In This Issue

We have been requested to again publish the names of the ex-students of Savoy Male and Female College from 1876 to 1890, and we are asking anyone who can add any names to the list or make any corrections to write to Mrs. Barbara Lips, 305 Geneseo Rd., San Antonio, Texas 78209.

Mrs. Lips, granddaughter of Prof. R. R. Halsell, is wanting a correct list of names for a memorial to be placed on the present Savoy school grounds where she plans a memorial garden.

A TRIBUTE TO GRANDFATHER HALSELL by Mrs. Charles S. Lips

I am grateful for the privilege to be here today and take part in this reunion, particularly since it is honoring the memory of my grandfather, Professor Halsell. A personality that arrested and demanded consideration. One look into the depths of those blue eyes made you feel the greatness and power of the man. A noble character, a character that will live in the knowledge of Infinite forever.

For through his example I have understood what it means to invest your life in others, rather than to seek to make a place in life through other means. I never think of my grandfather without thinking of the 13th Chapter of I Corinthians, because to me it has a very special meaning for those whose life is guided by and given to the love and compassion for others. THE ONLY VALUE OF A LIFE IS ITS CONTENT—FOR "OTHERS".

He builded a reputation second to none in his profession. For him all the knowledge and wisdom he possessed was worthless unless it was passed on to others. It was the driving forces of love and courage for the youth of his day that enabled him to establish and guide the great institution of Savoy College on such limited means of support — what other purpose could there be for such an adventure? Yet, "The task is never as great before you as the Power is behind you." He did not delay, because he knew your duty, your reward, your destiny— are here and now. Seemingly, he gave everything he had, his money, his time, and his energy to make a place where youth could gain the knowledge they wanted despite their economic circumstances — every boy and girl who came to him asking for an education, he gave them that chance. Possessed with the rare gift of kindling to a consuming flame the very faintest kind of a spark of celestial fire that might be smoldering in the soul of a student. He knew his own efforts did not bring it to pass, only God, but rejoiced in God found a use for his efforts in His work. Love is unconscious of itself.

He had this burning desire from the depths of his soul that his students have the right relationship with their God. He read a chapter in the Bible and offered a prayer and it is significant to me that this was done the first thing each morning. "For I met God in the morning, when my day was at its beginning and His Presence came like sunrise like a glory in the breast, all day long the Presence lingered, all day long He stayed with me, and we sailed in perfect calmness over a very troubled sea. So, I think I know the reason, learned from many a troubled way; you must seek Him in the morning, if you want Him through the day.

He was a great disciplinarian. It is obedience, not comprehension he taught, that enables a man to draw near to God. "He came to us as one unknown without a name, as of old by the lakeside. He came to those men who knew Him not. I speak to us the same words "Follow Me" . . . He commands And to those who obey Him whether they be wise or simple He will reveal Himself . . . and as an ineffable mystery they shall learn in their own experience Who He is."

I am certain today that had my grandfather lived to see it, he would most assuredly have been embarrassed by the things that are being said of him now, because Grandfather possessed the great quality of Humility—to have humility is to experience reality not in relation to ourselves, but in its sacred independence. I am sure he saw in his investment a crop ripe for harvest — not to be stored in barns but scattered over the land to bring forth fruits in another life, or place or time. You are the seeds that were scattered and the yield that has come from your growth has caused his influence to spread much further than was thought possible so many years ago. Through you he has been placed in the "Hall of Fame" within my heart, and perhaps in the hearts of others, all because you who knew him felt compelled to carry on this reunion each year to honor his memory and to remember what his influence meant in your lives . . . and to remind the world that not all success in life is measured by the dollar mark, but that true worth is measured in time by the amount you invest through love in the lives of those with whom you were in contact during your sojourn here on earth. All his faith would have been for naught had he not had a great love. Through his love he was able to give wings to his faith and feet and hands to the hopes and dreams of his life.

He left an indelible imprint upon the lives and characters of countless ones who sat at his feet gleaning from his mind the knowledge of living. Thank you for the love and kindness to the memory of our grandfather. We will always remember with love and devotion the things you have done to perpetuate his memory and enliven his idea. Professor Halsell walks the grounds around here no more—the master builder is with us no more. When his frail body, worn out by ceaseless toil in his beloved profession, was no longer able to function, he sought the place where light dwelleth—the far away home of the soul. WHAT MATTERS, AND ALL THAT MATTERS, IS THAT A MAN CAN SAY 'I BELIEVE IN JESUS AS MY LORD AND MASTER'.

DEATH ENDS CAREER OF W. E. McMahan

W. E. McMahan

Judge William Emmet McMahan, 90, school teacher, federal judge, attorney for Standard Oil of New Jersey, veteran of World War I and private attorney, died in a Bonham rest home at 9:15 a. m. Saturday, April 1, 1967.

Funeral services were held at the Wise Funeral Chapel followed by graveside services at Restland in Dallas.

Judge McMahan was a native of Fannin county, being born at Savoy, March 23, 1876, son of Mr. and Mrs. David McMahan, pioneer residents of Fannin county.

He attended Halsell college at Savoy and was one of the last surviving students of that school.

Judge McMahan attended the University of Texas and after graduating from that school in 1902 began a career that took him into many parts of the world.

After graduating from the University of Texas, he returned to Bonham where he engaged in the private practice of law for several years.

He then went to the Philippine Islands as a school teacher but gave it up and returned to the practice of law.

It was while engaged in the practice of law that he was appointed to the office of federal district judge in the Philippines, a position he held until his return to the United States in 1915.

He entered the advocate general's department of the army and served until the end of World War I.

Judge McMahan then practiced law in Tampico, Mexico, and then became vice president and head of the legal department of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey with headquarters in Mexico City. He remained in Mexico until 1938.

He returned to Texas in 1938 and lived in Fort Worth and Dallas before returning to Bonham in the 1940s to make his home.

Judge McMahan was first married to Miss Sally Burnett of Bonham. He later married Mrs. Jean Scarborough Dritt who preceded him in death.

Survivors are two sons, David McMahan and Bob McMahan of Fort Worth and a stepson, Billy Dritt of Dallas; two sisters, Mrs. Minnie Pierce of Savoy and Mrs. Florine Stubbs of Fort Worth, and several grandchildren and nieces and nephews.

GREETINGS FROM

ANNIE HALSELL WOODWARD

Again it is reunion time. And again I must send my greetings since I just am not up to making the trip, but I am thinking of you as you gather, and my heart is grateful for the memories of other days when I could be active in all that was planned. I sincerely wish for each of you a joyful day and may the trip bring you much pleasure and relaxation as you visit and renew your friendships.

In the midst of all the turmoil of our world today, it is most relaxing to get together for a few hours on occasions such as this to think of more pleasant things. It is still possible for us to look about us and see the beauty around us, but it is an effort to always have our rose colored glasses handy. It would be so easy to get bogged down in the chaos about us and not see the evidence of the hand of God in our world. But we must continue to live with the faith of our hearts and remember that He has an overall plan that will triumph despite of all our doubts. I send my best wishes for a most enjoyable day, and my gratitude for the good things the reunion stands for which you are trying so hard to instill in the younger generation.

The movement of the sea, set off by the dropping of a mere pebble into its waters, seems never to stop; so it is with the kind, gentle and good things done in our lives. We never know when we act just what reaction we may get, nor for how long it will influence the lives of others. Thus it is most important that we stop to think before we act. Certainly it is commendable when we stop to remember the kindness of another because by it we express our appreciation and our awareness that another has gone beyond the "call of duty" so to speak. It brings out our best and in turn someone may be happier for having passed our way. May you always have time to pause, even for a short time, to remember the kindnesses that have come your way, then be on your way a better person for the memory. What a desolate place it must be when one lives within a lovely garden but without pleasant memories.

As you return to your homes, may you take back with you a few memory plants to brighten the days ahead and to share with others that they too can be refreshed. This is my prayer for each of you.

Sincerely, Mrs. Annie Halsell Woodward.

In order to print more interesting Savoy Reunion News we are asking each of you to write us — tell something of yourself, your family, or reminisce about old Halsell College school days. These stories are interesting and may bring back memories so that others will write us.

Write to your secretary, Mrs. G. R. Newby, P. O. Box 369, Bonham, Texas, 75418.

JUDGE J. G. CLIFT

It was reported at the reunion that Judge J. G. Clift, 85, of Duncan, Okla., died in the early part of June this year following surgery. He was always interested in the reunions.

June 24, 1967

Mr. Robert F. Hodges, Sup.
Savoy Indep. School Dist.
P. O. Box 195
Savoy, Texas

Dear Mr. Hodges:

I was deeply touched when I saw the tangible evidence of the fine talent you have in your school system and all the efforts they extended to make all who attended the 1967 Savoy Reunion feel so welcome.

I was almost stunned when you presented me with the 1967 "Cardinal" wherein you had so beautifully demonstrated how much you all appreciated my gift to your school. It warmed my heart. Of all we have given away to Christian Education, etc., I felt this small gift to your school was more appreciated than all the rest. I will never forget that day.

Your new school building shows the result of intellectual thinking and planning. It is beautiful as well as functional. It is of superior merit — perfect in every detail and from every aspect.

Thank you again.

Sincerely, Mrs. Charles Storch Lips

Dear Friends:

I hope you have a good meeting this year and I regret that I will not be able to meet with you because of poor health. I will be with you in thought and spirit, and send my greetings and good wishes to each of you and know that the fine Halsell tradition carries on even though we cannot all meet at the old college grounds.

Sincerely, Mrs. B. E. Mathews,
(Rose Deatherage.)
